

SUFFRAGISTS OF WORLD CONVENTION

Geneva Convention Urged to Foster Spirit of Fraternity Among Mankind By Miss Royden

MRS. CATT A SPEAKER

Deplores America "Repudiating Constitution" By Failing to Yet Give Women the Vote

(By the Associated Press).
Geneva, Switzerland, June 6. — The eighth congress of the International Woman Suffrage alliance was opened this morning with a sermon delivered in Geneva cathedral by Miss Maud Royden, up to a short time ago pastor of the City Temple in London. Lady Astor, a member of the British house of commons, arrived today for the opening, owing to the delay of the Paris express. Miss Royden, who delivered the sermon in French and English, exhorted the women of the world to foster fraternity among mankind and aid the work of humanity in rebuilding the ruin caused by the war. She was warmly congratulated for the broad views she expressed.

The first official meeting of the congress was held tonight in Communal hall. The principal speaker was Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the alliance.

Mrs. Catt Outlines Situation.

Mrs. Catt said in part: "For the suffragists of the world a few facts stand forth with great clarity. The first and greatest is that the political liberation of women was torn off out of the war chaos like an isolated mountain when the world was in the making. War, the undoubted original cause of the humiliating, aged subjection of women the world around, war, the combined enemy of their emancipation, war has rendered to the women of many lands their political freedom. Strange, bewildering fact!"

"The Latin and Oriental countries still hold out, but that will not be for long. Rumania, the first Latin country to extend the vote to women, has already led the way, the others will follow. I believe no country in Europe except Turkey now is without a woman suffrage association. Women will soon vote wherever men do. Yet while all these old barriers are swept aside in many lands and men and women enfranchised, the task is not yet completed in the countries where women have labored hardest and where the principle of democracy has longest been unchallenged.

America Far Behind.

"There must be millions of women in Europe who never hoped for political liberty and who are now dazed by its sudden coming. The women of Norway, Denmark and Iceland have long been enfranchised. But Germany has outstripped all other nations in the recognition of the principle of equality, with 167 women serving on city council and 37 as members of the national parliament. The president of the German National Suffrage association comes to this congress as a member of the City council of Dresden.

"It is not for me to interpret the sentiments of the women of other lands, but with authority I may say that there are millions of suffragists in the United States who have been fairly stupefied with astonishment at these almost unaccountable events. As all the world knows the United States of America has been dedicated from the first to the principle of self government. No other nation has made the same pronouncements.

"No other country has repudiated its constitution, principles and history in its denial of votes to its women, and that is why the extension of suffrage to the women of all Europe has so humiliated the women of the United States. Women of the United States are not less glad that women of other lands have won the vote, but they feel that they have been betrayed by their own nation."

REMOVE SOLDIER DEAD FROM FRANCE ONLY WHEN REQUESTED

New York, June 6. — Circumstances under which American soldier dead is to be returned from overseas were described tonight by the Atlantic Division Red Cross headquarters in a statement issued with the authority of the ceremonial division of the war department. It read:

"There are three rulings in regard to bringing the bodies of deceased soldiers back to this country: "All bodies of deceased soldiers that are buried in Germany, Luxembourg, or Northern Russia, are to be brought back to this country whether the relatives want them or not. "In other countries, except France, they are to be brought back unless the relatives request that they stay there. "They are to be brought back from France only at the request of the nearest relatives."

TO ADJOURN TERM OF COURT.

Utica, June 6. — The term of the United States district court for the northern district of New York, scheduled to be held at Binghamton Tuesday, will be adjourned until June 15.

FEDERATION OF LABOR IN CONVENTION TODAY

Progressive Wing Will Seek to Lay Foundation For Establishment of U. S. Labor Party

Montreal, June 6. — Efforts will be made to have the American Federation of Labor, which opens its annual convention here tomorrow, lay the foundation for the establishment of an American labor party, leaders of the progressive wing of the federation declared tonight. They announced plans to launch a fight for the appointment of a special committee to draft an "ideal platform" during the next 12 months, and submit it at the 1921 federation convention as the basis for a new political party.

"We realize that our opportunity for a labor party has passed for the coming election," said Cyrus Grow of Los Angeles, one of the progressive leaders, "but we want to prepare now for the future. Labor has been the loser by the now-too-long delay in the direction of a political organization."

"We are here to sponsor a third party. If our plan is carried out, there will be an American labor party within two years. Our movement may, however, be hastened if either one of the major parties adopts a reactionary platform in their national conventions."

"The labor party movement is being supported by delegates from the Metal Trades council of the Pacific coast and a number of representatives of other west coast organizations."

Conservative leaders refused to comment on the labor party plan except that they did not believe it would "get far," as the majority of the delegates would support Samuel Gompers, president of the labor federation, in his announced non-partisan political policy.

MEXICAN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION ON SEPT. 5TH

Mexico City, June 6. — Members of the chamber of deputies and the senate will be elected on Sunday, August 1, and the presidential election will be held on September 5, according to a decision reached by Adolfo de la Huerta, provisional president, at a conference with congressional leaders yesterday. A formal decree to this effect will be issued on Monday. Declaration was made last night that the government had determined not to enter into any negotiations with Felix Diaz, nephew of former President Porfirio Diaz, as a revolutionary leader for some time past in the state of Vera Cruz. General Diaz recently announced he desired to support the government.

SEEK CHANGES IN RULES OF PROCEDURE OF LEGISLATURE

New York, June 6. — Changes in the rules of procedure in the state legislature will be sought by the Citizens' union at the opening of the next legislative session. It was announced by the union here tonight. The last session, the announcement stated, demonstrated the necessity of the changes desired. Reforms to be urged, it was stated, will include the adoption of rules limiting the speaker's control of the rules committee; revision of methods of procedure to lessen the accumulation of legislation in the closing days of the session, and some means of forcing action on important bills affecting the state.

Right of this city, bound and gagged Mr. and Mrs. Hazen in chairs, back to back, and then left the premises, going toward Springfield.

BRITISH WARSHIPS OPEN FIRE ON NATIONALISTS

Constantinople, June 6. — British warships opened fire on nationalist positions near Tuzla, on the Sea of Marmara, 36 miles west of Ismid, late Friday night.

Constantinople was aroused by the heavy firing of the guns of the British warships. The nationalists had approached close to the British entrenchments along the Gulf of Ismid, where many British units are stationed, to protect the troops guarding the railway.

The collapse of the sultan's troops leaves the British alone to defend the railway terminals opposite Constantinople. Many Armenian and Greek refugees have entered Ismid after escaping from the nationalists.

TWO ELDERLY MEN KILLED BY AUTO DRIVEN BY N. Y. GIRL

New York, June 6. — Two elderly men were killed in sight of scores of persons returning from church today by an automobile driven by Miss Marion Epman, 20, of New York. The car ran upon the sidewalk in Upper Broadway, smashed a fire alarm pole, and struck the men as they were conversing. The men were Homer Gibson, 63, and Jacob Ziveman, 64, both of New York.

Miss Epman was arrested and held in $2,500 bail on a charge of homicide. She was alone in the car, and according to the police, apparently lost control of it in turning suddenly to avoid collision with another automobile.

FREIGHT CAR THIEF KILLED; COMPANION CAUGHT BY POLICE

Springfield, Mass., June 6. — In a running battle with Boston & Albany railroad detectives, Guiseppe Visani, of this city, was shot and killed early this morning, and Louis Makoni, also of Springfield, was arrested charged with larceny from a common carrier. According to the police, Visani and Makoni, together with a third man, were found looting a freight car and when the officers approached they dashed for liberty. Detectives fired nine shots and one struck Visani, according to the officers. Visani's body was not found until daylight this morning. The third man escaped.

VERA CRUZ FIGHTS BUBONIC PLAGUE, 25 CASES REPORTED

Mexico City, June 6. — Every effort is being made by the government to combat the bubonic plague at Vera Cruz. Orders have been issued making sanitary authorities there the supreme power in the city, dominating even military affairs. A troop train broke through the sanitary cordon surrounding Vera Cruz last week, and a warrant for the arrest of the general in charge of it has been issued.

Twenty-five cases, the most of which have proved fatal, have been reported from Vera Cruz since the outbreak of the plague a week ago.

DEADLOCK IN CONVENTION NOW SEEN AS PROBABILITY

NO FORCES ARE IN THE MAJORITY

Uninstructed Delegates, Who Hold Balance of Power, Arrive in Chicago

LOWDEN CLAIMS 250

Wood and Johnson Also Optimistic—Dark Horses Go Begging For Riders

Chicago, June 6. — Prospects for a deadlocked Republican convention are growing with the arrival of uninstructed delegates, who hold the balance of power.

Out of the deadlock, which will be produced by the failure of Wood, Lowden or Johnson forces to command a majority, will come the nominee, be he dark horse or one of the big three.

The Lowden forces tonight are claiming as high as 250 votes on the first ballot and the Wood forces equally as many. The Johnson claims are not stated in figures, but the California senator's headquarters are hourly claiming additions to his column.

After looking over the much-mixed situation, with its lack of head and leadership, the men whose influence counts in the party councils, have come to the conclusion that about the best way out is to let the candidates with the largest number of supporters trot a few heats to show the convention what they can or cannot do. Those favoring this plan feel perfectly certain that none of the candidates will be nominated on the test ballots.

Dark Horses Lack Support.

After the three leading candidates have demonstrated to the convention that they have not enough votes to nominate themselves, it is argued that the delegates themselves will be in a better position to determine whether they prefer to combine on one of the three or look at some dark horses. Up to this time, dark horses have gone begging for riders because those who had any considerable support, like Johnson, Lowden or Wood, refused to look at others for fear of indicating weakness before a test of strength had been made.

Even those who favored a dark horse were unable to attract any support for him because there had been no opportunity for one dark horse to establish a lead over another. To the mass of uninstructed delegates they are all a lot of dark horses and nothing more.

The practical politicians began to realize today that the only solution offered was to let the convention call for a dark horse and then show it a few with the possibility of course, that the convention might decide it could go further and fare worse than to take Johnson, Lowden or Wood. All the discussion tonight of the principal balloting centers around these three names, but the dark horse names are too many to be recorded.

If any set of practical politicians had agreed among themselves to put the convention into a deadlock for their own purposes, it is doubtful if they could have done better than the convention itself is threatening to do. Three ballots and possibly four by Thursday night, is the prediction being most freely made, coupled with the further prediction of final balloting on Friday.

Possibilities of Fireworks.

The plan looks placid enough, but it is not without its possibilities of fireworks. It is realized on all sides that the forces of neither Johnson, Lowden nor Wood will give up the struggle without a battle. The fight upon the platform planks, particularly that on the league of nations, continues to promise a test of strength of the various elements, and renewed predictions are being made that the element which succeeds in framing a platform acceptable to the convention also will be able to provide a candidate equally acceptable. At this time four years ago, Charles Evans Hughes was as good as nominated, although the ballots were not cast until four days later. Tonight he is being mentioned here and there among the dark horses. Mention of former President Taft also is heard in the same way.

The Hughes talk, which could not be denominated a boom, but yet bears the stamp of a good deal of support, was brought in by New York business men and financiers, who contended that he was a man upon whom all the elements could unite. Governor Sproul of Ohio also figured in the speculation. With the opening of the convention 35 hours away, last minute arrangements are promptly moving into place. They include everything but a winning candidate, but the practiced

Johnson Is Convinced Convention Will Heed Will of G. O. P. Voters

Chicago, June 6. — Senator Johnson had a stack of telegrams returns from the North Carolina primary election when he met newspaper correspondents for his regular interview today.

"My reports, which are very meagre," said he, "say that I have carried the metropolis of the state, 19 to 1, and that it is safe to say that I have carried the entire state. North Carolina is the poorest American state in the union, with less than one percent of its population of foreign birth. Yet, I suppose that a certain section of the press will announce tomorrow that these Americans have been metamorphosed into Sinn Feiners, pacifists, progressives, and Red radicals by the act of voting for me. How, logically, a candidate can be selected by the Republican national convention for Presidential nomination from among a field of four, who have never been better than third or fourth, passed belief with me. I am convinced that a Republican convention will heed the will of Republican voters. Must Respect Wishes of Voters."

"It will be very unfortunate if the convention forgets the wishes of the rank and file of the party, who make the party and make the country as well."

Somebody asked him how much of a vote was cast in the state. "The vote was light," he promptly retorted. "I suppose that will destroy the indications of the primary for some observers. If it had been the other way, of course, it would have shown for them the magnificent discrimination of the voters."

A questioner asked the senator if he was "weakening on the league of nations."

"Not," he declared. "Not. I have said I came here to make a fight in relation to the platform. I'll be represented in the ultimate conference on the league of nations, wherever that will be, any time it comes up."

Senator Johnson intimated he was not being included in present conferences on the subject.

The senator remarked that he "had no ideas at present" on permanent chairman or organization of the convention.

"I am very anxious to see Senator Borah when he arrives," he informed another questioner. "I'd like to see Senator Borah chairman of anything he wants to be because of the kind of a man he is."

Confident of Delegates Pledged for Him.

In quick succession, Senator Johnson put aside questions on other points but paused a moment when the fealty to his cause of primary-bound delegates was touched.

"I'm satisfied that no honorable man or decent citizen would violate the law in the matter," he said, "or the trust that is reposed in him."

Governor Sproul, Pennsylvania's candidate for president, was active today, meeting party leaders from different states and consulting his own lieutenants. He met a number of state governors during the day. Senator Calder of New York was among the callers.

State Senator William E. Crowe, chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican state committee, issued a statement in which he said: "There is a marked and sincere drift of sentiment from every section of the country to Governor Sproul. This has so encouraged his friends that an aggressive contest now is on by the Sproul forces for delegates."

John T. King, national committeeman from Connecticut, was in communication during the day with Senator Penrose, who is ill at his Philadelphia home. It was understood that Mr. King was endeavoring to carry out some of the wishes of the senator, but the nature of them was not revealed.

All day long a leased wire direct to the Philadelphia home of Senator Penrose ticked in the headquarters that were to have been occupied by Mr. Penrose in this city.

politicians are confident that the elimination races they are planning to run in the Coliseum this week will produce one.

Leaders Work on Platform Planks.

With the convention circle of party leaders virtually complete, the Republican platform builders went seriously to work tonight on the more troublesome of the planks remaining to be fashioned.

One of these was the declaration on the treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations, a subject of long-standing disagreement and bitter controversy. Another dealt with industrial relations, bringing into contrast widely-diverse schools of economic thought. A third related to Mexico, always a topic of debate and now somewhat complicated by recent developments south of the Rio Grande.

On all these entire harmony was predicted by all the party leaders, although most of them conceded that some interesting scrimmages possibly reaching the convention floor would have to be fought out before there could be an agreement.

Complicating the task for the time being was a reaction against the platform program worked out by some of the leaders in conference during the last two weeks in Washington. The movement against that program, apparently leaderless, was based on an objection that the Republican senators had taken too free a hand in the pre-convention platform construction.

With the belated arrival from Washington of several senators representing extremes of Republican opinion on the treaty, the long senate fight over the League of Nations virtually was transferred to the conference rooms here. They are to be the scene of renewed efforts for a program on which all Republicans can stand.

New York Delegates Arrive.

A special train with most of the 35 New York delegates to the Republican national convention arrived today. The train was plastered with posters proclaiming the candidacy of Nicholas Murray Butler, Senator Wadsworth headed the delegation. He was the only member of the "big four" on the train.

Personal statements by the delegates indicated that Dr. Butler would have the votes on the first ballot, and that later some of the 55 votes would be thrown to some other candidate.

General Wood, delegate thought, is adequate funds for ship repairs will mean only rapid deterioration and greater cost in the end, the secretary said. Rejection of his request for the construction of cruisers and other vessels of the navy to keep abreast of other countries in naval aircraft development.

Failure of congress to provide adequate funds for ship repairs will mean only rapid deterioration and greater cost in the end, the secretary said. WOMEN PICKETS WILL BE ACTIVE

More Than 100 of Them, Representing 22 States, to Parade Outside the Coliseum

DEMAND EQUAL RIGHTS

Want Same Representation As Men on National Committee's Executive Committee

Chicago, June 6. — Polite but impressive picketing of the Republican national convention was decreed upon today by shock troops of the National Women's party here under the leadership of Alice Paul.

The picketing will start Tuesday morning and continue indefinitely. More than a hundred women, representing 22 states and every phase of woman's activities, all carrying banners bearing the names of the states and slogans, will occupy positions outside the Coliseum. Other women will work among delegates from their states in the various state headquarters. Verbal heckling has no place on the program.

Every effort of the suffragists, Miss Paul said today, will be directed toward inducing the national leaders to urge the governors of Connecticut and Vermont to call special sessions of the legislatures of their states and pass on suffrage. The legislatures, Miss Paul insists, are ready to ratify the suffrage amendment if the governors will call the special sessions.

Women Demand Equal Rights.

Republican women, "Irreconcilables" after two debates today in the caucus of women delegates and alternates, finally put through their demands for equal representation of the national committee's executive committee. The proposal was carried on the final vote, 75 to 54. The moderate faction held out for a declaration that the women ask "adequate" representation. Mrs. Robert Burdette of California defining "adequate" to mean at least one more than one-third of the executive committee's membership.

The moderates were opposed by Miss Mary Garrett Hay of New York, chairman of the Women's Republican executive committee, and Mrs. Fletcher Dobbins of Illinois, while the resolution presented by Mrs. Medill McCormick of Illinois was endorsed by Mrs. Bagley of Massachusetts, Mrs. Helen Reed of New York, Mrs. Burdette and Mrs. McCarter of Kansas.

As adopted, the resolution declares that the women want the vice chairmanship of the Republican National committee, two secretariats on the committee, and equal representations on the national executive committee. No demand was made for equal representation on the National committee itself.

Dr. Butler Arrives in Chicago.

Chicago, June 6. — Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of New York today joined the Republican presidential aspirants who have taken personal charge of their convention headquarters. In his announcement, he said "some progress" was being made toward framing a platform "declaration of principles," adding that he was glad to find that his views as to the importance of that declaration were shared by many delegates with whom he had talked.

"The people are in no mood to be trifled with," said Dr. Butler. "They want to know with precision just what the Republican party will undertake to do if it carries the election."

Dr. Butler predicted that "Americans generally" would "never accept that narrow and selfish international policy" which was, he said, embodied in the position of Senators Johnson and Borah. "As to isolation of the United States from the work of the world," nor any other "merely negative policy."

The fundamentals of an acceptable American international policy, he said, were to bring into existence the international court of justice, co-operate with other nations "in devising ways and means to establish and maintain international peace," and unite with them "to punish violations of international public law."

OSBORNE ENDS INSPECTION.

Portsmouth, N. H., June 6. — Thomas Mott Osborne, formerly commandant of the naval prison here, returned to the navy yard today after an inspection of the naval prisons and detention camps along the Atlantic coast. He planned to prepare his report to the secretary of the navy while here.

Eclipsed By Exhibitions
of Hitting

New York, June 6. — The close races for leadership in the two major leagues are almost eclipsed by the heavy batting and scoring of nearly all the teams.

The American league amassed a total of 269 runs and 571 hits in 23 games played last week, while the National league had a total of 259 runs and 532 hits in 27 games. Of the 30 home runs made in the younger league, 21 were pounded out at New York, where Babe Ruth, the Yankee slugger, brought his season's total to 15. In the National league, 18 circuit smashers were made.

Brooklyn and the Cincinnati world champions, both with pitching staffs going along steadily, are fighting for first place honor in the National league, with the eastern team leading by one game. The New York Americans, who have won 14 of their last 16 contests by terrific slugging, today caught up to Cleveland at the head of the league, when the Indians broke even while the Yankees were pounding Philadelphia's pitchers. The Cleveland pitching staff is faltering and only the stick work of the Indians is keeping them in the running. The two leading teams in each league meet in series starting next Saturday.

PAST WEEK ON STOCK MARKET IS VERY DULL.

Its Absolute Unimportance Guaranteed From Fact That Dealings Were Smallest in Over a Year

New York, June 6. — The absolute unimportance of last week in the stock market may be gauged from the fact that dealings amounted to the smallest total of any like period since February of last year.

Prices were steady to firm for the most part, and in a number of instances, especially among rails, equipments, and some of the miscellaneous specialties more than a little strength was displayed.

In the opinion of impartial observers, the better tone of the list was due less to actual demand than to an almost complete cessation of the speculative long accounts.

From all parts of the country came word of an increasing scarcity of time money.

Industrial and commercial conditions again were somewhat clouded by labor disturbances and reduced production, the latter voluntary in part. These were balanced in a measure by further favorable reports from important agricultural sections.

The financial community seemed to pay little heed to approaching political developments.

MT. VISION NEWS LETTER

Funeral of Mrs. Kate Bowditch held Friday—Supper at Methodist Church.

Mr. Vision, June 6.—The funeral of Mrs. Kate R. Bowditch was held at the home of her brother, Thomas M. Green, Friday afternoon. Owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Green, only the relatives and near neighbors and a few intimate friends were present. The services were conducted by Rev. E. D. Cooke, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. The body was laid to rest by the side of her husband and wife.

Those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. William Bowditch and daughter of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Sages Clark of Bethlehem, Pa., Mrs. Kate Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Breeze of Oneonta, and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Field of Hartwick.

MRS. ATTICUS FRAIL

Long-Time Resident of Butlers Corner Is Victim of Bright's Disease.

Schenectady, June 6.—Elsie A. Granger, wife of Atticus Frail, died at her home at Butlers Corner, north of this village, this morning after a ten week's illness of Bright's disease. Funeral services will be held at the home Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. George Martin, pastor of the Methodist church, will officiate, and burial will be in the family plot at Franklin.

Mrs. Frail was born in the town of Westford on August 22, 1855, and in youth attended the old Delaware Literary Institute at Franklin. On November 4, 1874, she was married to Mr. Frail of Franklin, and they resided there about 20 years, when they moved to Ohio and lived for six years. Mr. and Mrs. Frail then returned to Butlers Corner and have lived there ever since, they caring for an aged uncle and aunt who were unable to live alone. She was a member of the Baptist church at Franklin and was a woman with many virtues.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Frail is survived by one son, Egbert C. Frail of Toledo, and the uncle and aunt with whom she lived.

UGLIEST WOMAN LOVES BEAUTY

Says Love Cannot Exist Where Every Sense Is Repelled by What It Sees.

HAS MISSED MANY THINGS

Never Worn an Easter Hat or Attended a Dance—Has Never Known Tribute of Other Women's Jealousy—Not Always Ugly.

New York.—How it feels to be the "homeliest woman in the world," her emotions as pretty hats and pretty gowns make a mockery of her every feature, and whether happiness and love have passed her by are questions answered by Mrs. Mary A. Bevan with the remark:

"Without beauty—some beauty of line or coloring—woman fails of her mission."

Mrs. Bevan has come to this country to capitalize her face—for her job is just to be herself with an American circus. She continued:

"Attractiveness may be X, the unknown quantity. But to remove it completely you get—me! Ah! Other women do not know what it is to have people look at them and look away, and then look again, fascinated against every instinct. They do not know curiosity which is like a knife turning round and round in the heart."

"You see, I do not feel different from anyone else. I love beautiful things, and I would like friends and entertainment. But those I shall never have."

Something of the distortion in Mrs. Bevan's ugly features creates an impression of unreality. It makes one feel as if he were talking to a figure in a weird dream. And this despite her sweet gentleness of manner and her fascinating voice.

"You see," she went on, "the basic principle of a woman's life, whether she will admit it or not—is love. It is love of husband, children, humanity at large. And how can love exist where every sense is repelled by what is before the eyes?"

These are some of the things which Mrs. Bevan says she alone, of all the women in the world has never experienced:

She has never worn an Easter hat.

She has never attended a dance.

She has never been offered a seat in a street car.

She has never known the tribute of other women's jealousy.

It is true that Mrs. Bevan has the solace of four attractive and affectionate children, and it is for their support that she is to work as an exhibit in the circus, the ultimate result of a contest to find the homeliest woman, held in the little town in England where she lived last summer.

"My marriage?" She repeated my question. "Oh, that was long ago, when I was a girl. You see, I wasn't so ugly then—hadn't arrived at the full perfection of ugliness. I was a nurse in a hospital and the cap and gown were becoming."

"Besides, my husband had opportunity to become acquainted with the real me that lives behind my face and my great stocky hands and my gorilla figure before he asked me to marry him. He never saw me like this, and I am glad. He is the one bright memory, with my children. They love me. So I have happiness and love in a measure. Life hasn't passed me by."

"But oh, tell other women what they have! Tell them to make the most of their beauty, for they all have some."

Do It Now!

Who would imagine that Sir Walter Scott, the great Scottish poet could sometimes feel lousy? Yet he says that he often found the beginning of the day's labor as distasteful as "plunging into cold water." "We shiver on the brink," said he, "but once in, are full of vigor and energy. If the morning hours are squandered in idleness, we are apt to think the rest of the day is too short to trouble about, and so the precious time passes away with no achievement." Such a thought as this makes one inclined to obey the advice of another philosopher, who said, "Don't wonder when to do a thing, but do it now!"

Origin of "Pitched Battle"

"A pitched battle" originated in the days of knight-errantry and was so-called then because boiling pitch was used by the defenders of a feudal castle to repel the attacking force. The battles, which usually took place outside the castle walls, would soon end when the boiling pitch began to flow from a tank on top of the walls. This originated the term "a pitched battle."

The Courage of Marge O'Doone

BIG REELS — BY

James Oliver Curwood
Author of "Back to God's Country" and "The River's End."

"The Courage of Marge O'Doone" is a story that never flags, that abounds in unexpected incidents, that is rich in the deep colors of the glorious country in which its scenes are laid. If you like a story that travels straight on like a bird on the wing, with a swift series of unforeseen and thrilling episodes and all of it painted against the splendid hues of the wide, generous westland, see "The Courage of Marge O'Doone."

The romance is written with great spirit. Mr. Curwood obviously knows the forest, and his descriptions of it are very vivid. He is a dauntless fighter, too, and never fails to give some stirring scraps. It is Mr. Curwood's best story and hard to beat.

VERDICT ON DEATH OF INFANT

Coroner Woods Delares Evidence Insufficient to Warrant Holding of Show Troupe. One of Whose Members Gave Birth to Stamford Babe.

Delhi, June 6.—Coroner C. R. Woods of this village, who recently conducted an inquest at Stamford in the death of a new-born babe, whose body was found among some rubbish being carried away from the Delaware house in that village, has just rendered his verdict in the case, in which he holds that the evidence in the case is insufficient to take action.

It will be recalled that the body of the infant was found on May 25 in a jar that had rolled off a dump wagon passing through the streets. An iron receptacle used for burning paper was in the back yard of the hotel and into this jar, containing the body, was placed. A few days later, the contents of the receptacle were set afire, accounting for the fact that when the body was found, it was badly burned. "The evidence before me," declares

Dr. Woods in his verdict, "shows that on May 12, a child was born in the Delaware house at Stamford, and that the body of the baby was placed among some unburnt papers in a receptacle for burning papers in the back yard of the above hotel by parties unknown. The evidence also shows that on the above date, a member of a show troupe, who occupied Room, No. 10, gave birth to a child. The responsibility for the death of the child could not be placed. In the opinion of the coroner and the district attorney, the evidence is not sufficiently strong to warrant putting the county to the expense of bringing back the show troupe for trial."

It was brought out at the inquest that on the night of May 12, a show company, consisting of four girls, one woman, and one man, had passed the night at the hotel. The stage driver, who took the company to Oneonta on the next day, stated that one of the girls was so ill when she left the hotel that it was necessary to assist her to the conveyance—that she rode the entire distance to Oneonta with her head in the lap of one of the other women. The occupants of the hotel denied having any knowledge of the illness of the woman.

REGRESS TO CHAT AND SMOKE AT FACTORY

New Scheme Put in Effect to Increase Production of Footwear.

Smoking and chatting periods have been introduced at a shoe factory at Marlboro, Mass., in an effort to increase efficiency. Several ideas eliminating unnecessary processes have been adopted and other suggestions aimed at time saving are being tried out.

Some of the operatives, it is said, did not take kindly to the experiments and were wondering dubiously what the next attempt of the management to obtain a short cut to production would be. It came in unexpected form and the employees are now discussing that latest idea over their pipes and their knitting "on the company's time."

The speculation over the next efficiency plan was answered by the following announcement: "Production must be increased. Quality must be improved. Beginning tomorrow, operations will be suspended twice daily to allow operatives to rest."

During these periods, which begin at 10 in the morning and 3 in the afternoon, the power of the plant is shut off and the wheels are stopped while the men smoke and the women chat or knit. Then the whirl of the machinery begins again and the workers return to their task of making shoes.

The Dusk and Stars.

The rain had ceased falling softly through the dusk. A cool green wind flows through the deeps of air. The stars are as wind-whirled fruit blown upwards from the tree tops. Full-orbed, and with a pulse of flame, the moon leads a tide of quiet light over the brown shores of the world. But here I stand upon the brown shores of the world, in the shine of that quiet flame where, full-orbed, the moon uplifts the dark. I think only of the stars as wind-whirled fruit blown upward from the tree tops. I think only of that wind that blew upon the tree tops, where the whirling stars spun in a merry dance, when, at last the rain had ceased falling softly through the dusk. O wind-whirled stars, O secret falling rain.—Fiona Macleod.

Pig Proves Bear.

Hartford, N. Y.—Louis Murray, an employee on the estate of Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, saw a black animal in his path while walking alone the Croton aqueduct. He thought it was a pig. He walked close to it, heard a growl instead of a grunt, and found it was a small black bear. Murray beat it quick.

is rich in the solid meaty values of wheat and malted barley, and has a substantial amount of sugar.

This sugar is not added in making but is developed from these grains by processing and long baking.

This decreases your sugar requirements, for the average cereal needs sugar for greatest palatability. Grape-Nuts needs none.

Bear this in mind when you order your cereal and ask for Grape-Nuts.

MAKERS OF PLATFORMS.

A document sent out generally to the press by the National Association of Manufacturers states that a committee of 53 representative men of that body have formulated a platform consisting of a preamble and nine planks, which include government and industry, regulation of combinations, private employment relations, taxation and finance, transportation, immigration, merchant marine, foreign trade and war bonus. This platform, it is announced, will be submitted to the Republican convention at Chicago and also to the Democratic convention in San Francisco.

Discussion of the proposed platform may very well wait on its definite publication, which will probably be in a day or two. Still, it is worth noting that the fact that it is offered by one group of men, albeit so notable a one as the National association, will naturally and from the first arouse a degree of antagonism. The association rests, in the preliminary statement, its claim to consideration of its platform on the fact that its members employ over 6,000,000 persons. This certainly indicates that it is a representative body so far as the financial and industrial interests are concerned, but the vital thing, since the association itself suggests it, is whether it represents these millions of employees. If it does, and certainly its members have greater opportunity than anybody else to study economic conditions among the employed, it will have two-fold reason for consideration. If it does not, it will be considered, whether justly or not, merely as a document intended to promote class interests; and therein lies the danger. It should, however, be accorded as mere justice, a suspension of judgment until its nature is understood.

But, if the National Association of Manufacturers is active in platform preparation, there are also many other interests and organizations which are not less so, and when the platform committees of Chicago and San Francisco meet there will be abundance of matter to select from. While the various topics presented by the association are important, there are others, already formulated, or possibly in some cases embryonic, which already leading statesmen have in mind, and with the suggestions from many sources sure to be received, there will be wealth of material, albeit much of it is sure to be conflicting in its nature.

A suggestion previously made in these columns and elsewhere might very well be repeated—there are so many matters of interest to be presented, there is danger of making the documents so long that they will not receive proper consideration. From the standpoint of an age which believes in the short cut to business or any other efficiency, the short platform is the one which will be read. Just a few telling points, and without explanatory note or comment, will get figuratively speaking, "under the skin." They will be read, and if they are properly and concisely worded, they will stick in the mind. Too often words have been used, and not infrequently in platforms, to befog the issue. This should not be the case in either platform this year.

Of course the advocates of numerous individual planks will argue that in their separate instance this cannot be done. This is an indication of lack of perspective. There is no one thing so big at this time as to overshadow everything else, albeit there are many things bigger than those which in some former campaigns have made whole party platforms, but this is just the reason why the platforms should be concise, lest in multiplicity of detail the vital issues be overlooked.

Disappearance of the Bug.

Editor Star—I am writing you may make some inquiry through our local paper as to what appears to me to be the disappearance of the bug, meaning thereby the Colorado potato beetle. So far this year I have seen only one and I cannot say if this was dead or alive. When digging in my garden other years I have seen numbers of them. I have potatoes up and hood and so far have seen no bugs. I think it is a remarkable phenomenon and if they have disappeared we can all feel thankful and say Providence has come to our timely aid when potatoes are so scarce and dear. I want to hear from somebody else about this very important matter.

COMMENT OF THE PRESS

A Simple Solution.

Oregon says he would like to make the border between his country and the United States like the border between Canada and the United States. Well, the same kind of people live north of the Mexican border as live south of the Canadian border. Now, if he can produce the same kind of people south of the Mexican border that live north of the Canadian border, the puzzle will have been solved. —[Toledo Blade.]

Making Trees Grow Square.

An English school of forestry announces that there is no reason why trees can not be made to grow square and produce wood of better quality and in greater quantity. 1. would be unwise to ridicule this statement, for stranger things than that have happened. Fight Because "Th Be There."

The vets say there is going to be a fight at San Francisco. I know there is going to be a fight, because I am going to be there. I am going to fight for a dry platform plank, and I know that 36 of the 52 members of the resolutions committee will be dry. —[William J. Bryan.]

THE "JOURNAL" CHANGES HANDS

Otsego's Leading Democratic Newspaper Repurchased by Former Owners. Messrs. Carley and Spraker Resume Editorial Control. Mr. Cooke Engages in Business in New York.

The stock of the Freeman's Journal company of Cooperstown, which in March, 1919, was purchased from the Wilcox Publishing company of Augustus Paul Cooke, who for the past 14 months has conducted the paper, was repurchased Saturday by the former owners, who took immediate possession. The editorial policy of the paper will be in control of George H. Carley and Rowan D. Spraker, and it is understood that the first issue of the paper under their management, which appears on Wednesday, will mark a return to the same lines which marked its former conduct by the same proprietors. This announcement, there is no doubt, will be gratifying to the large number of patrons to whom the name of the Journal has long been a household word; and the newspaper fraternity of the county will cordially welcome the former proprietors to its ranks once more.

For the present at least the Journal will continue to be printed in the office in the Iron Clad building, though later it may be transferred to the building of the Wilcox company on Pioneer street. The Glimmerglass, which was formerly published by the Journal but was sold by Mr. Cooke to the Wilcox company late last season, will again be issued, the first number appearing July 6.

Mr. Cooke, who, it is understood, has a position with an advertising firm, left Sunday for New York city, where he expects permanently to locate, and where his unquestioned ability and versatility should make him very useful. To his new position the best wishes of many friends accompany him.

Plumber Carries His Tools.

A Chattanooga plumber has effectually served notice on the public that the standing joke about plumbers charging $1 and more an hour "to go back after their tools" does not apply to him. He carries his complete plumbing shop with him to every job in a Dodge Brothers business car. The interior of the panel body is so arranged that there is a place for every tool and every part. There are no return trips and no delays. The owner, James H. Lipp, is fully aware of the advantage he enjoys with this equipment and uses it in his advertising. The car is painted purple, united in maroon and lettered in gold.

1920 POLITICAL CALENDAR

PRIMARY DAY COMES SEPT. 11; ELECTION NOVEMBER 2.

Registration Days in Cities and Villages of More Than 5,000 on Oct. 8 and 9 and 15 and 16—Elsewhere Oct. 9 and 16.

The political calendar issued on Saturday by the Secretary of State Hugo Loeu under the terms of a bill signed by Governor Smith, Sept. 16, as the primary day in the state for the fall election and November 2 as the general election day. Registration in New York city is scheduled for Oct. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, while personal registration in cities and villages of more than 5,000 will take place Oct. 8 and 9 and 15 and 16, and elsewhere about the state where personal registration is not required on Oct. 9 and 16.

Petitions may be signed commencing June 21st and designation petitions may be filed with the secretary of state Aug. 16 to 17. Designations may be declined up to Aug. 27 and Aug. 31 is the last day on which a vacancy may be filled after designation. Independent nominations may be filed with the secretary of state from Sept. 21 to 28. Candidates are allowed until November 12 to file expense statements and November 22 is the last day allowed to file committee expense statements.

Outside of New York city, the hours of voting on primary day are fixed from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. On election day the polls will be open 6 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Commercial travelers and others unavoidably absent from home on election day will now be enabled to vote by an amendment to the election law. A registered voter absent from his place of residence on election day must first make an affidavit that he will be away that day and this affidavit is to be filed with the board of elections not later than 17 days prior to the date of election. The board will furnish such persons with ballots.

The Booth bill enables a voter, who may have moved to another election district in the county, to vote at the primaries by filing the proper statement with the board of elections.

Other amendments relate to the appointment of election clerks in districts where voting machines are used; independent nominations in villages and the use of municipal buildings for polling places. Copies of the political calendar may be obtained from Mr. Hugo on request.

Memorial Service Sunday.

The local lodges of Odd Fellows and Maccabees held their annual memorial service at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Odd Fellows' hall on Chestnut street. Despite the somewhat unfavorable weather of the day, there was a good attendance of members of the two orders, who listened with interest to the ritual service, which was impressively given by Charles Beavans as Noble Grand and A. G. Whitman as Chaplain.

Earlier in the day the graves of deceased members of the two organizations were appropriately decorated.

Surprise Party at Charles Smallin's.

The friends and neighbors of Charles Smallin and family gave them a surprise party at their home on Crumhorn mountain the evening of June 2. The earlier part of the evening was spent in visiting by the elders, while the younger set played games and enjoyed other amusements. Later refreshments were served and all departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Smallin success in their new home.

Oneonta Theatre, Thursday and Friday of This Week

"After all we are nothing but kids," said a dignified individual after seeing Larry Semon in "School Days." "I feel twenty years younger after a good hearty laugh and recalled a score of escapades I had while going to school." The comedy was woven around Larry Semon's own boyhood, and he suggested that many of the incidents actually occurred to him.

Polish-American Girls Put Duty Before Everything Else

Y. W. C. A. workers at tea-time in their villa in Warsaw. This house was turned over by the government to the Y. W. C. A. unit of reconstruction workers at the request of Mme. Paderewska.

These girls, all of them of Polish birth or parentage, direct work in children's hospitals, visit the homes of soldiers' families to report cases of want, manage soup kitchens and work in the refugee camps.

Several girls in the unit have not seen their families since before the war. Some of them have received no word from their relatives and others expect, after serving six months, to receive a short leave of absence when they can travel to distant parts of Poland and visit the remaining members of their families.

They will soon be joined by a second unit of workers who are now on their way across Europe. The Y. W. C. A. will send other Polish Grey Samaritan units as soon as arrangements can be made.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK.

GLACIER is one of the newer of our great "outdoor museums" or national parks. Scattered throughout its 1,400 square miles is a jumble of mountains, glaciers, rivers, lakes and waterfalls which looks like "the Great Builder had left the odds and ends of his world making here in one disordered heap."

A newspaper man toiled hard to reach the top of one of the skyland trails. Resting on a boulder and looking far out over the forests, across a flower-carpeted valley to a superbly beautiful mountain lake, he declared he had discovered "Where God sat when he made America."

The dominating feature of Glacier is its magnificently carved mountains. It contains some of the most tremendous panoramas in the world. Some of its peaks remind one of cathedrals, others of forts and castles. The suns and winds of hundreds of years have tinted their summits with varying hues. Often their sides are covered with great, slow-moving glaciers—ice fields, some of which travel fully five inches in a year. Between or below them are splendid forests of pine. The meadows between these wooded patches are a riot of wild flowers.

But the supreme beauty of this park is its mountain-hemmed, mirrorlike lakes, fed by glacial streams which tumble down the mountain sides, often in tall, ribbonlike falls of great beauty. Add to this an occasional glimpse of a Swiss chalet (for the accommodation of visitors) and you have an unbeatable combination for the true lover of the wild and the beautiful.

LOCAL MENTION.

—There was a good attendance, considering the weather, at the supper of the Fidelity class at the Main Street Baptist church Saturday evening. The receipts were about $40.

—Children's day will be observed next Sunday with appropriate exercises by most of the churches of the city. The usual attractive programs will be arranged and the children will hold sway in all the churches.

—There is apparently to be no change in the time of the departure of the morning D. & H. train from Oneonta for Binghamton until the summer time table becomes effective, which is scheduled for June 27th.

—Residents of the adjacent hills in places at least report a slight frost on Thursday night last, with little damage done, it is hoped. It was feared that one might result last night of wider extent, but at midnight it seemed improbable.

—Charles Hubbard, local dealer in Scripps-Booth motor cars, has sold and delivered one of the new series B touring cars to Harry G. Lambros, proprietor of the Boston Candy Kitchen. The car is attracting no little attention on the streets of the city.

—L. VanBramer, H. A. Brown and S. Merrill caught 98 brook, rainbow and German brown trout fly fishing at Big Indian yesterday. It probably was the largest catch of trout brought to Oneonta this season and the fishermen have every reason to be proud of their skill.

—During the month of May, deaths in Oneonta exceeded births by five, records at the city clerk's office showing that during the 31 days, 20 deaths and 15 births were reported. Dan Cupid was rather inactive, only six marriage licenses being issued. Eighteen hunters were granted licenses.

—The Field Day program scheduled to have been given at the fair grounds last Saturday morning by the girls of the Oneonta High school was necessarily postponed on account of the rain. It will be held at a date soon to be announced and which will probably be next Saturday.

—An entertaining program is announced for a meeting of the American legion to be held Tuesday evening at the Elks' home, commencing at 8 o'clock. Some interesting sketches will be put on and an evening of merriment is promised all who attend. Every ex-service man, whether a member of the legion or not, is invited.

—The games scheduled by Weidman's Cubs for both Saturday and Sunday with Susquehanna were called off on account of the bad weather. Manager Weidman is arranging to have the games come off at a later date. He announces that the next game of the schedule will be played at Neahwa park here Saturday, when the Sidney nine will cross bats with the locals.

Is it any wonder that people come to Oneonta to live?

$1,000 FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF

SECURED AT OPENING OF DRIVE TO RAISE ONEONTA CITY'S QUOTA.

Dr. Pringle in eloquent address pleads that America accept responsibility for Armenia and care for its unfortunate—Subscriptions May Be Forwarded to Daily Star.

Oneonta responded handsomely yesterday to the call of the starving children of Armenia and girls carried off to a living death from that country, the day yielding a tribute over $1,000 of the $2,500 needed to put the city over the top. The First Presbyterian and First Methodist churches each pledged to secure at least $250 or to provide food, shelter and schooling for two children, while at the rally held at the First Methodist church last evening individual pledges and cash contributions brought the total to $1,000, making the city's quota secured. Other churches have the matter of providing for one or more of these children under consideration, and it is believed that before the week is over the amount will be equal to the quota asked of the city. The Star will during the week receive and acknowledge all subscriptions forwarded to it, which will be turned over to Robert Hall and by him forwarded to the fund. Those who have not contributed as yet are urged to forward any amounts to this office, as the needs are great.

Rev. Dr. William Pringle of New York, who has been directing the efforts at Sidney, Walton and Liberty during the past two weeks and who reports that each of those places has more than trebled their quotas, was the speaker at the rally held last night and addressed a large audience, making a strong appeal in behalf of the sufferers. Rev. Dr. Johns presided at the service and Dr. Farley made the opening prayer. Dr. Pen-dleton read the parable of the Good Samaritan, and Rev. Mr. Caughey pronounced the benediction.

Dr. Pringle, who served in France as a chaplain throughout the war with the rank of captain, after alluding to the fact that the death rate in the world is now even greater than when the awful carnage was on, and that the time calls for self denial, paid his compliments to no uncertain language to those "small Americans" who declare that having done a little and but a little, we should now withdraw from world activity and care for ourselves. We are asked to do for Armenia what we did for Cuba and we alone can and should do it. Those who oppose are like the surgeon, who after amputating a leg, walks away and lets the patient die. We have only begun our work and we will be unworthy of our forebears and of our best traditions if we fail.

Following a tribute to the heroism of the men who fought for us in France, the chief anxiety of those who died being that our country should go ahead with the task, the speaker referred most eloquently to the call from Armenia, the oldest Christian nation on the globe, which has for generations felt the heel of the Turks. They died rather than forsake their faith in God. This very day there are thousands of orphan children wandering around in little bands subsisting on what they can find, often getting at the roots of vegetation to find something tender upon which to exist. If we do not respond, they will die by the thousands. We fail to grasp the lesson of the war if we are not imbued with the same spirit as our brave boys and in a spirit of devotion and self sacrifice give of our abundance until we feel it. It is up to us to be the Good Samaritans to those unfortunate.

After a couple of minutes of silent prayer, subscription cards were passed and the above amount subscribed, those by members of the two churches named being credited to the amounts which the officers of those churches had already promised would be raised. This morning, Dr. Pringle will address the students of the State Normal school and it is hoped that later in the week he will be here to assist in the project.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Kellam, H. Spencer Rowe, Edward D. Tinker, C. H. Bowditch and H. D. Weston expect to attend the convention as delegates from the local council.

PRISONER HANGS SELF

John Connor of Andes, Awaiting Sentence Today Commits Suicide

WAS CONVICTED OF ARSON

Found Hanging in Cell at Delhi Jail by Undersheriff Early Saturday Morning; Secreted Rope Despite Search Made by Keepers—Was Accused of Setting Fire to Three Buildings in Andes Last February.

Facing the probability of a long term in state prison after having been convicted of first degree arson by a jury in Delaware county court, John Connor of Andes ended his life in his cell at the county jail in Delhi early Saturday morning. Undersheriff Harry Lambrecht found his lifeless body hanging from a rope that he had secreted in his cell.

The trial of Connor last week in county court attracted much attention in all parts of Delaware county and elsewhere, and a large number of people from his town were interested spectators. Connor was the owner of three small houses located opposite the Central house on Main street, Andes. The houses were all connected together in the rear. The one toward the north was occupied by Connor and his wife, the middle one was vacant, and the third building was used by Connor's brother, Charles, and his sister, June. At about 3 o'clock Saturday morning, Feb. 7, 1920, the Andes fire department was called out by an alarm given by Connor, who said the fire started in the house occupied by him. Many of those first on the scene asserted that apparently the flames originated in the unoccupied building and spread rapidly to the nearby structures. In a remarkably short time, all three buildings were in ashes. Connor carried an insurance of $2,000 on the three houses.

The fire was characterized by dense smoke, such as is made by oil, and the fact that a light had been seen in the unoccupied house shortly before midnight led to rumors. A few days after the fire, Connor was placed under arrest and taken to Delhi, where he had since been confined in jail.

Previous to the fire, it is said Connor made statements to the effect that the buildings were a losing proposition and hard to rent. He had made several attempts to sell them, but never succeeded in doing so. A few days before the fire, Eugene Knapp, who lived near the Connor house, said from time to time he saw Connor carrying articles from the house to a barn in the rear. After the fire, it was discovered that this barn contained considerable furniture.

While the fire was in progress, several persons saw Connor kicking the windows out of the front of the building which caused the flames to spread more rapidly as the result of the increased draft. After the fire was out and the buildings in ruins, Mr. Knapp asked Connor what in his opinion was the cause of the fire. Connor said that he believed that it started from an oil heater which he had left burning in the house to keep the water pipes from freezing. Knapp then noticed that the oil heater appeared in good condition, except that it was slightly charred, and upon mentioning this fact to Connor, the latter immediately took the heater and destroyed it.

Attorney Fred Youmans defended Connor at last week's trial, while District Attorney A. L. O'Connor handled the prosecution for the people. Circumstantial evidence figured largely in the trial, which was ably presided over by Judge A. J. McNaught. It was brought out that Connor had already been in prison for other offenses and had previously been accused of burning buildings. He is a man past middle age.

After the jury brought in its verdict of guilty for first degree arson Friday, Judge McNaught adjourned court until this (Monday) morning, when Connor was to have been sentenced. Undersheriff Lambrecht escorted the prisoner to his cell after the trial and in conversation with him, was impressed with the fact that the prisoner seemed downcast and morose. Having become suspicious, Mr. Lambrecht conducted a thorough search of Connor's cell early that evening and found a pen knife and in the bottom of the toilet a short rope used to a noose and these were removed.

SCENE FROM VITAGRAPH'S "THE COURAGE OF MARGE O'DOONE" BY JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD A VITAGRAPH SPECIAL PRODUCTION AT THE STRAND TODAY AND TOMORROW

The rope was such as the prisoners have to hang their washing on.

The suspicions of both sheriff and undersheriff were now aroused, and again a search was instituted but nothing was found. Before Lambrecht retired for the night, he again went to Connor's cell and found him sleeping soundly. After making sure that the cell was tightly locked, Lambrecht retired at 10:30 p. m. (old time) and at 5:45 Saturday morning arose and immediately went to the confined man's cell, where he found him hanging from the ceiling with a rope around his neck. After making sure the man was beyond aid, Connor Woods was summoned, who after an investigation, said he did not consider an inquest necessary. He was of the opinion that the man had been dead about three hours, which would make the time Connor committed the deed about 2 o'clock in the morning.

John Connor succeeded in secreted the rope by passing it into the cell through a hole in the wall.

The belief that the suicide was premeditated was borne out by a letter found in the dead man's cell. It was addressed to his brother and in it Connor stated that he was innocent of the crime charged against him and was "ready to meet my God as an innocent man." He told the brother to let the town pay the expenses of the burial, "for you have done enough for me already."

The body was removed to Andes, where the funeral will take place. Connor had been a resident of that village for a number of years and was a teamster by occupation. He is survived by his wife, Margaret, and by a brother and sister, Charles and Jane Connor, all of Andes; and by four children, a daughter living in Arena, another making her home in Binghamton, and a third in New York, and one son, George Connor, of New York city.

MOTHER LOVE IS THE ROCK OF AGES.

Mother love is the universal tie which binds all people together, no matter what the nationality, no matter the environment, the love of Mother is universal, and the love of a Mother for her young as everlasting as the Rock of Ages.

Hal Reid, the American playwright, has written over a hundred and twenty stage successes, and upon being interviewed by Harold Bell, the critic, was asked "to what he attributed the unbroken line of success." Reid's answer was "To the fact that in all of my plays I have Mother no matter how. I have Mother defending and sheltering her children, and I have found that the hearts of the world have responded and are still doing so."

In "The Confession," the Mother is wonderful in her love and loyalty and there has never been made a more artistic picture since the discovery of the art of making them.

Coming to the Oneonta theatre Thursday and Friday of this week.

A CHARMING JUNE WEDDING

Mrs. Florence Morris of Milford Center becomes bride of Harold S. Smith of Oneonta—Many Friends and Relatives Witness Impressive Ceremony.

One of the most charming weddings of the season was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sextus Morris of Milford Center Saturday, June 5, at high noon, when their daughter, Florence Howland, was married to Harold Sherman Smith, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith of Oneonta.

The impressive ring service was used and the ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. W. W. Ward of the Baptist church.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Helen E. Morris, while Sherman M. Fairchild of New York, cousin of the groom, acted as best man. The bridesmaids were: Alpha Rose of Mr. Vison and Lorraine McLaury of Milford; and Master William Bedford of Oneonta carried the ring on a white satin pillow. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's gown was white georgette over white satin with silver lace and her wedding veil of tulle caught by orange blossoms was worn by her mother at her own marriage 27 years ago. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas with a shower of valley lilies. She wore the groom's gift, a platinum brooch with pearls and sapphires and a platinum lavalliere set with pearls and diamonds, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fairchild of Oneonta.

The maid of honor was gowned in pink georgette with a picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink Columbia roses. The flower girls were in white net and carried a basket of white sweet peas.

The decorating was under the supervision of Ralph S. Wyckoff of Oneonta and consisted of pink azaleas and white lilies with the exception of the dining room where pink roses, tulips and valley lilies were used.

Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered by the Beach orchestra, which continued to play during the reception that followed, after which a delicious breakfast was served to one hundred guests under the direction of Mrs. Castline as cateress.

The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful, including a check from the bride's father for $1,000 and $500 in bonds from the groom's parents.

The bride, who is one of the most charming and popular members of the younger set, has a host of friends in her home town and in Oneonta, where she graduated from the High school with the class of 1913. She is also a graduate of Laselle seminary of Boston, class of 1916, and the Albany Business college in 1918, since that time she has been employed in the D. & H. offices in Oneonta.

The groom, one of Oneonta's most capable and enterprising young men, is a graduate of the Oneonta High school, class of 1914. The following years he attended Carnegie Technical school at Pittsburgh. During the war he served with the naval aviation forces in France. At present he is a partner and secretary and treasurer in the Oneonta Optical company.

The bride and groom left for a ten days' motor trip, after which they will be at home at 21 Ford avenue, Oneonta.

Besides intimate young friends and relatives of Milford and Oneonta, the following guests were present: Mrs. Frank R. Morris and son, Richard, of Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith of Delhi; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taber of Paulding; Reed Gordon and Miss Gladys Murphy of Cobleskill; Edward Poliv of Troy; Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Woodford of Castleton; Mrs. H. A. Davenport of Oakville; Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Rose of Mr. Vison; Miss Margaret Rose of Schenectady; Mrs. Morgan St. John of Ithaca; Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Hunter of Cooperstown; Miss Gertrude Colton of Albany; Miss Ella Lyman and Mrs. Elizabeth Coates of Coilliers; Wellington Morris, Josephine Howland, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Barney, Mr. and Mrs. Doris McLaury, of Milford; Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Russell, Mrs. George W. Fairchild, Miss Florence Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Lee of Oneonta; Mrs. Fred Buss, Pomper, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Sherman of Seattle, Wash.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED.

Home Guards and Mothers Jewels Celebrate Birthday of Society.

Saturday afternoon, the Home Guards and Mothers Jewels of the First Methodist church held a very enjoyable birthday party at the church parlors in recognition of the fortieth anniversary of the formation of the Women's Missionary society of the church, at which about 70 of the little folks were present and were given a jolly good time. There was a musical program given under the direction of Mrs. George J. Clute. Solos were sung by Misses Leona Hendy, Lurene Hubbell and Little Miss Frances Deering of Mr. Vernon, grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Turner. Afterwards the little folks played games and then witnessed some interesting moving pictures, including the Story of a Puppy, which pleased them immensely.

Refreshments followed, during which a large birthday cake with 40 candles was cut and with it each little guest was served a generous dish of Purty ice cream. The occasion was also one of rejoicing because of the fact that as a special anniversary effort, the membership of the Home Guards has been increased from 55 to 150, a very gratifying increase indeed.
